The Group offers financial products and services and provides credit to approved applicants. We also provide funding via our established and long-standing mortgage originator partners. We also process and assess information when investors invest funds with us. We may also market or provide other products from time to time, pursuant to our licenses.

Our commitment to protect your privacy

We take privacy seriously as part of our commitment to providing our customers with excellent service and to achieving excellence in compliance.

This policy sets out our privacy commitment in respect of personal information (including credit information) that you may provide to us.

You may request this Policy in an alternative form where appropriate and without charge.

Personal information

When we refer to personal information, we mean information or an opinion about you, from which you are, or may reasonably be, identified.

The kinds of personal information we may collect about you may include (but is not limited to) your name, date of birth, driver's licence number, marital status, phone number, email address, address, nationality, employment history, income, assets, liabilities, living expenses and repayment history information.

Credit information

Credit information is a subset of personal information, which is used to assess your eligibility to be provided with credit and may include any finance that you have outstanding, your repayment history in respect of that credit, and any defaults. Usually, credit information is exchanged between lenders and credit reporting bodies.

If you are applying for credit, we may also collect other information such as the ages and number of your dependants and cohabitants, the length of time at your current address, your employment details and proof of earnings and expenses.

Sensitive information

Due to the nature of the services provided by us, some of the information collected may be sensitive information, including, but not limited to, details about your health or ethnic background. For example, you may be asked to provide information about whether you are an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander or if you are applying for insurance. In addition, you may be asked for information about pre-existing medical conditions.

It is not common practice for us to collect other sensitive information about you (such as information about your religion, trade union membership, political opinion, sexual preference, or criminal record), and we will only do so if such information is required for one or more of our functions or activities.

We will only collect sensitive information about you with your consent or where required or authorised or otherwise permitted under law.

Why do we collect your personal information?

We will only collect information if it is reasonably necessary for one or more of our functions or activities.

We collect and receive personal information about you to conduct our business and to provide our services, including the purposes set out under the headings below.

How do we collect your personal information?

We may collect personal information from you in several circumstances, including where you:

- make an enquiry with us via telephone, email or by visiting our office;
- lodge or partially lodge a loan enquiry or request a quote through our website;
- apply or partially apply, to be a borrower or guarantor;
- attend an event hosted by us;
- apply for employment with us;
- apply or partially apply for accreditation as a business partner, aggregator, broker or introducer of loans or other products;
- provide any other service to us either directly or through your employer;
- interact with us via social media; or
- register to use a related product or service offering.

Where reasonable and practical, we will collect personal information from you directly.

We will also collect information about you from third parties, such as a partner or spouse who contacts us on your behalf, from our contractors who supply services to us, through our business partners and referrers (such as mortgage originators and brokers), from a publicly maintained record or from other individuals, credit reporting bodies or companies or individuals authorised by you.

If you do not provide the information requested by us, we may not be able to provide you with our services.

Purposes for which we use and disclose information

We may use and disclose your personal information for the purpose for which it has been provided, for reasonably related secondary purposes, any other purpose you have consented to and any other purpose permitted under the Privacy Act. This may include using your personal information for the following purposes:

- to provide you with the products or services you requested;
- to verify your identity;
- to assess, process and manage your application to be a borrower or guarantor, including to verify your details and assess our risk;
- to provide you with credit and manage that credit;
- to assess, process and manage your application for employment;
- for complaints handling or data analytics purposes;
- to manage our relationship with you;
- to assess, process and manage your application to be a business partner, aggregator, broker or introducer of loans or other products, including to verify your details and assess our risk;
- to manage our business, including obtaining advice and services from companies and contractors including the types set out below; and
- to provide you access to the customer rewards program.

Verification of identity

We and our Mortgage Insurers may disclose personal information about you to an organisation, including a CRB, providing verification of your identity, including on-line verification of your identity. The organisation will give us a report of whether that personal information matches personal and credit-related information held by the organisation. If we use these methods and are unable to verify your identity in this way, we will let you know. We may also use information about your Australian Passport, state or territory driver licence, Medicare card, citizenship certificate, birth certificate, and any other identification document to match those details with the relevant registries using third party systems and record the result of the matching.

By obtaining your express consent, we may verify your identity using the Document Verification Service (DVS) (dvs.gov.au). Our use of the DVS to verify your identity may involve the use of third-party systems and services. DVS verifies supplied information by checking it against information held by the agency that originally issued that document (also referred to as the Official Record Holder). You may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting the privacy officer at privacy@resimac.com.au or by phoning us on 1300 764 447.

How do we hold your personal information?

The security of your information is very important to us. We will take reasonable steps (such as, but not limited to, restricting and monitoring access to personal information) to protect any personal information from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification, misuse or disclosure.

Your personal information may be held by us in paper form, electronic form, on our secure servers or in cloud storage.

Your personal information may be held by us in paper form, electronic form, on our secure servers or in cloud storage. Your personal information may be combined or linked with personal information held about another individual (i.e. where a loan is held in joint name).

We regularly review developments in security and encryption technologies. Unfortunately, no data transmission over the internet can be guaranteed as totally secure. If we no longer require your information, and we are legally permitted to, we will take all reasonable steps to destroy or deidentify the information.

We take reasonable steps to preserve the security of cookie and personal information in accordance with this policy. If your browser is suitably configured, it will advise you whether the information you are sending us will be secure (encrypted) or not secure (unencrypted).

Who will we disclose your personal information to?

The types of organisations that we may disclose information about you include:

- organisations which assist us to verify your identity;
- organisations that provide products or services used or marketed by us, including other credit providers, mortgage intermediaries (such as mortgage brokers, mortgage originators and mortgage managers), funders, lenders, valuers, trustee companies, financial institutions and securitisers, mortgage insurers, title insurers, surveyors, credit reporting agencies, rating agencies and debt collectors;
- other organisations that are involved in managing or administering your credit;
- your employer/s or referees, your guarantors, your professional advisors, your bank or anyone else where you have provided consent;
- any other organisation that may have or is considering having an interest in your loan, or in our business;
- companies and contractors who we retain to provide services for us, such as customer rewards programs, information and infrastructure systems IT contractors, call centres, stationery printing houses, mail houses, storage facilities, lawyers, accountants and auditors, who will need to have access to your personal information to provide those services;
- people (such as investors, agents or advisors) or any entity considering acquiring an interest in our business or assets;
- where we are required to do so by law, such as under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth) or the National Consumer Credit Protection Act 2009 (Cth); or
- other individuals or companies authorised by you or in relation to whom disclosure is permitted by law.

Overseas disclosure

We may disclose your personal and credit information to overseas entities that provide support functions to us including entities in New Zealand and the Philippines. You may obtain more information about these entities by contacting us.

Prior to disclosing any of your personal information to another person or organisation, we will take reasonable steps to satisfy ourselves that:

- (a) the person or organisation has a commitment to protecting your personal information at least equal to our commitment, or
- (b) you have consented to us making the disclosure.

Collecting and disclosing credit information

We may collect the following kinds of credit information and exchange this information with credit reporting bodies and other entities:

- credit liability information, being information about your existing finance which includes the name of the credit provider, whether the credit provider holds an Australian Credit Licence, the type of finance, the date the finance is entered into, the terms and conditions of the finance, the maximum amount of finance available, and the day on which the finance was terminated;

- repayment history information which is information about whether you meet your repayments on time;
- information about the type of finance that you are applying for;
- default and payment information; and
- court proceedings information.

We exchange this credit information for the purposes of assessing your application for credit and managing that credit.

Credit reporting bodies

We may exchange personal and credit related information about you with a Credit Reporting Body (CRB). The information may be included in reports that the CRBs give other organisations (such as other lenders) to help them assess your credit worthiness. Some of the information may adversely affect your credit worthiness (for example if you have defaulted on your loan) and accordingly, may affect your ability to obtain credit from other lenders. Information exchanged with the CRB may affect your credit score.

Notifiable matters

The law requires us to advise you of 'notifiable matters' in relation to how we may use your credit information. You may request to have these notifiable matters (and this Privacy Policy) provided to you in an alternative form.

We exchange your credit information with credit reporting bodies. We use the credit information that we exchange with the credit reporting body to assess your creditworthiness, assess your application for finance and managing your finance.

If you fail to meet your payment obligations in relation to any finance that we have provided or arranged, or you have committed a serious credit infringement then we may disclose this information to a credit reporting body.

You have the right to request access to the credit information that we hold about you and make a request for us to correct that credit information if needed. Please refer to the heading access and correction of your personal and credit information, below.

At times, your credit information will be used by credit reporting bodies for the purposes of 'pre-screening' credit offers on the request of other credit providers. You can contact the credit reporting body at any time to request that your credit information is not used in this way.

You may contact the credit reporting body to advise them that you believe that you may have been a victim of fraud. For a period of 21 days after the credit reporting body receives your notification the credit reporting body must not use or disclose that credit information.

You can contact any of the following credit reporting bodies for more information:

- Equifax (equifax.com.au),
- Illion (dnb.com.au), or
- Experian (experian.com.au)

Direct marketing

From time to time we may use your personal information to provide you with current information about mortgage loans, special offers you may find of interest, changes to our organisation, or new products or services being offered by us or any company (such as QBE Insurance) that we are associated with. By providing us with your personal information, you consent to us using your information to contact you on an ongoing basis for this purpose, including by mail, email, SMS, social media and telephone.

If you do not wish to receive marketing information, you can opt out of receiving such information by emailing us at marketing@resimac.com.au or by phoning us on 1300 764 447.

We will not charge you for giving effect to your request and will take all reasonable steps to meet your request at the earliest possible opportunity.

We will not use or disclose sensitive information about you for direct marketing purposes unless you have consented to that use or disclosure.

Updating your personal information

It is important to our relationship that the personal information we hold about you is accurate and up to date. During our relationship with you we may ask you to inform us if any of your personal information has changed.

If you wish to make any changes to your personal information (including your credit related personal information) that we hold about you, you should contact us to have it updated. We will generally rely on you to assist us in informing us if the information we hold about you is inaccurate or incomplete.

Access and correction of your personal and credit information

We will provide you with access to the personal and credit information we hold about you, subject to limited exceptions in the Privacy Act as outlined below. You may request access to any of the personal or credit information we hold about you, at any time, using the details specified below.

We may charge a fee for our reasonable costs in retrieving and supplying the information to you.

Depending on the type of request that you make we may respond to your request immediately or within a reasonable period after receiving your request. We may need to contact other entities to properly investigate your request.

If any of the personal information we hold about you is incorrect, inaccurate or out of date you may request that we correct the information. If appropriate we will correct the personal information at the time of the request. Otherwise, we will provide an initial response to you within seven days of receiving your request.

Where reasonable, and after our investigation, we will provide you with details about whether we have corrected the personal information within 30 days.

We may need to consult with other entities as part of our investigation.

If we refuse to correct personal information, we will provide you with our reasons for not correcting the information.

Denied access to personal or credit information

There are circumstances in which we are not required to provide you with access to personal information or to credit information, and in those circumstances, we may decline any request you make.

An explanation will be provided to you if we deny you access to your personal information we hold.

Using government identifiers

If we collect government identifiers, such as your tax file number, we do not use or disclose this information other than where we are required by law to do so.

Business without identifying you

In most circumstances, it will be necessary for us to identify you in order to successfully do business with you, however, where, it is lawful and practicable to do so, we will offer you the opportunity of doing business with us without providing us with personal information.

Such a situation would include where you make general inquiries about interest rates or current promotional offers.
